At Jazz Do IT, we assume that most people are intelligent and well-intended, and we're not inclined to tell people what to do. However, we want every Jazz Do IT conference to be a safe and productive environment for everyone. To that end, this code of conduct spells out the behavior we support and don't support at conferences.

THE CORE OF OUR APPROACH IS THIS:

We don't condone harassment or offensive behavior, at our conference venues or anywhere. It's counter to our company values. More importantly, it's counter to our values as human beings.

CODE OF CONDUCT

We're voicing our strong, unequivocal support of appropriate behavior by all participants at technical events, including all Jazz Do IT events. This applies to our events we do with event partners, such as Koktebel Jazz Festival and Startup.Network . We invite you to help us make each Jazz Do IT conference a place that is welcoming and respectful to all participants, regardless of race, gender, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, national origin, ethnicity, political affiliation, or religion. So that everyone can focus on the conference itself, and the great networking and community richness that happens when we get together in person, we will not tolerate harassment of conference participants in any form — in person or online.

Examples of harassment include offensive comments, verbal threats or demands, sexualized images in public spaces, intimidation, stalking, harassing photography or recording, sustained disruption of sessions or events, and unwelcome physical contact or sexual attention. Harassment also includes slights and negative messages, both unintended and intentional, based solely on appearance (sometimes called microaggressions).

CODE OF CONDUCT

We expect all participants—attendees, speakers, sponsors, and volunteers—to follow the Code of Conduct during the conference. This includes conference-related social events at off-site locations, and in related online communities and social media. Participants asked to stop any harassing behavior are expected to comply immediately. Conference participants violating this Code of Conduct may be expelled from the conference without a refund, and/or banned from future Jazz Do IT events, at the discretion of organizers.
